

“You wouldn’t let your grandfather or grandmother decide what clothes you wear or what music you listen to, so why would you let them decide the world you’re going to live in and the politics that you’re going to be subjected to?”